

FROEHLING
ANDERSON

Needs Assessment

The Froehling Anderson Needs Assessment is an opportunity for organizations to identify and understand the gaps between existing accounting processes and desired results.

Do I Need An Assessment?

Getting an unbiased perspective on your current processes takes away the emotion that can get tied into process management. Our consultants take a deep dive into your systems; who the key players are, how each system works alongside one other, and what the current outcomes look like. We then provide solutions that can close the gaps and get you the results you are looking for.

Discovery

We interview decision makers and process drivers to understand your systems, perspectives and key operations.

Analysis

We pinpoint triggers of undesirable results and analyze the relationships between the causes and effects.

Report

We document everything we learned in a report to help you understand your successful financial processes and roadblocks. We present action items and recommendations for closing the gaps so you can succeed.

